About Martin Laschkolnig

Martin Laschkolnig is an entrepreneur and expert for developing potential, self-esteem and motivation. His excellent, almost accent-free English is easily understood by all kinds of multi-cultural audiences.

Martin Laschkolnig brings two worlds together. On the one hand a practical, down-to-earth approach based on a western education in economy and decades of leadership experience, including building a franchise organisation with 100+ partners. On the other hand years of philosophical and epistemological studies with Tibetan monk scholars in India. The combination of both allows a different approach much needed in the uncertain times we are facing today.

He is a Past President of the German Speakers Association, a member of the Board of Directors of the Global Speakers Federation, as well as a Founding Member of the Evolutionary Business Council and of the Association of Transformational Leaders Europe.

The Promise: As a professional through and through Martin will embrace your needs and goals for your event. So that you can relax and focus on organizing your event.
